Launch of New National Certificate License Program

Uniform Licensing in Combustion Now Available To Improve Standards Nationally

National Association of Stationary Operating Engineers® kick-off a new certificate license program on Thursday, January 15th 2015 to improve qualifications of Combustion Technicians and Combustion Specialists that service and install burners and combustion systems sized from residential burners to large industrial combustion systems.

The Combustion Specialist and Technician license program was developed by Mr. O'Brien-Bills, PE, MSc. Engr., Executive Director with assistance from Elgin Community College Energy Management Program, ESCO Institute, and Weishaupt America.

National Assoc. of Stationary Operating Engineers is a professional licensing agency that provides nine-licensing programs as a stationary engineer licensing service.
